

Only by being able to have a thinking sensation, can I conscious ~~sensation~~ (thought) have a thought of a star, a sun, a tree, a leaf, and a dimensional outlook associated with each sight. ^Q Sensation has always the element of thought Sensation has always the element of thought in it. Only by being able to have a thinking sensation, ^(perception) can I have a conscious thought (a conception) of a leaf, a tree, a sun, a star, and a dimensional outlook associated with each sight.

1. How does the ingestion of thought enter into sensation?
How does the reception of the eye, for instance, differ from that of the camera lens and film? It has been definitely proved that the human lens mechanism that is associated with the retinal pigment - visual purple - behaves in principle like the lens and silver coated film of the mechanical camera.

I do not see unless I think - can Seeing is nothing; apart from thinking?

The reception of the eye, for instance, differs from that of the camera lens and film. It has been
definitely proved that the human lens mechanism that is associated
with the retinal pigment - visual purple - behaves in principle
like the lens and silver coated film of the mechanical
camera.